MEMORIES OF THE PAST

Briefly Reviewed by Jefferson Davis of the Ex-Confederacy.

The Sacrifice the South Made and the Burden They Now Bear Without a Murmur for the Benefit of the North.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 29.—The Confederate soldiers of Monroe County have just finished a reunion, at which memories of the war were freely interchanged. Among the incidents was the reading of a letter from Jefferson Davis, in which he complained of the pensioning of Federal soldiers as a discrimination. He says:

"The annual meeting of the old Confederate soldiers, both pleasant and useful in itself, as reviving memories over which disaster could bring no cloud of shame, and serving to teach the rising generation the truths for which you so nobly struggled, is connected by you with the beneficent purpose of relieving your needy and suffering comrades and protecting the orphans of those who sacrificed their lives in the effort to maintain the State's sovereignty, won by Georgia in the War of the Revolution. Though the States are again reunited, and all contribute to fill the Treasury of the gene al Government, the funds collected are only eppropriated to provide for the ex-soldiers of the Northern States. The Southern soldier, disabled in war, and the widows and orphans of those who died, can only hope for relief from a second tax which may be voluntarily paid by the people for whom they fought and who suffered with them. It is not the least of your meritorious manifestations that you meet this discrimination without complaint and brace yourselves to bear this double burden with no ill-feeling to the Government for their offensive favoritism. True, under all the severe trials to which you are subjected, it is equally honorable to you that you have accepted the conse-quences of defeat, and thereafter have gone shoulder to shoulder with all who are striving to secure the welfare, promote the prosperity and preserve the honor of a common cour-

"Please present to the members of your association the sincere regards and best wishes, with which I am, ever faithfully, "Your friend,

"JEFFERSON DAVIS."

SEVERE CONFLICT

Between Two Negro Burglars and a Private Watchman.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 29.—Tony Kennedy, a merchants' policeman, discovered two negro burglars forcing an entrance to the rear of the Athenaeum at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning. In attempting to arrest them several shots were fired without taking effect. The policeman, however, succeeded in catching one of them when a scuffle ensued. Kennedy struck the villain over the head with his revolver, and the burglar stabbed him several times and then escaped. Kennedy is badly wounded, and fears are entertained that he cannot recover. Yesterday two negroes were arrested giving their names as Johnson and Monroe Richards. The officer's revolver was found on the former, and a knife covered with blood on the latter. Both are in jail.

A VIGOROUS FIGHT

Between Two Officers and a Manufacturer of Moonshine Whisky. CAMPBELLSVILLE, Ky., Aug. 29.—Tuesday night Special Bailiff Kelly and Al. Watkins, Deputy United States Marshal, went to the head of Stevens Creek, in this county, to arrest Poly Chisholmn, charged with running a moonshine distillery. They arrived at Chis-holmn's house at 12 o'clock, and, knocking sat the door, informed him that they had . writ for him, and demanded his surrender. This he refused, saying he would be arrested by no d-d man. He opened the door and presented a double-barreled gun at the officers. The gun was immediately grabbed by Kelly, and a struggle ensued, during which both barrels of the gun were discharged. Immediately after Chisholm fired at Kelly with a revolver, inflicting a slight wound on the top of the head. Chisholmn then rushed by the officers and fled to the woods.

Balls of Fire from the Clouds,

Whence They Return. FORT KEOGH., M. T., Aug. 20.- Word was brought in by a gentleman from Highwood who saw the occurrence, that, during a thunder storm about seven days ago, a ball of lightning shot from the clouds and struck the ground with such force that a great mass of dirt and dust was thrown into the air and the grass set on fire. The ball of lightning rolled rapidly over the ground, scorehing and burning everything in its path as it tore along. while the air was impregnated with burning sulphur and other unpleasant odors. It was finally stopped by a grove of trees, into which it shot with great velocity, when there was another loud report and the ball took another shoot upward, disappearing in the clouds whence it came.

A SURVEYOR'S FATE.

Found Lying by the Wayside, the Food of Vultures.

PIEDRAS NEGRAS, Mex., Aug. 29.-A commercial traveler who has been doing the interior of Mexico, arrived last night, and states that when about thirty miles from here, attracted by vultures lighting near the road, he made an examination and found the corpse of Otto Bremendew, County Surveyor of this county. The body was not sufficiently torn to prevent recognition. There was no evidence of foul play except a slight excoriation under the chin, as if made by a rope, The road, which was sandy, bore across it near the body a plainly marked trail, as if some heavy substance had been dragged across it. Bremendew was young and had some money. He had only lately left here on a surveying tour.
